

The Armchair Detectives

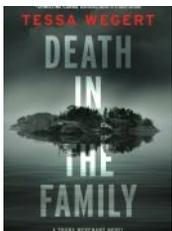

Meeting the first Wednesday of each month at 1:30 pm

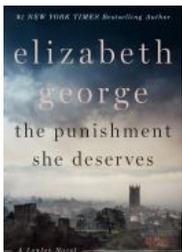

July 7: “Face Time” by Hank Phillippi Ryan. TV reporter Charlotte McNally fights for justice, journalism, and the battle against on-air aging. The good news: she's got explosive evidence to free an innocent woman from prison. The bad news: that makes Charlotte--and someone she loves--the real killer's next target. The more Charlotte snoops around, the more people turn up dead.

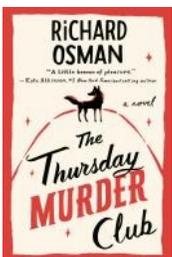

August 4: “The Potted Gardener” by M. C. Beaton. A series of destructive assaults on Carsely’s finest gardens is followed by an appalling murder. Agatha Raisin seizes the moment and starts yanking up village secrets by their roots and digging up all the dirt on the victim. Problem is, Agatha has an awkward secret of her own...

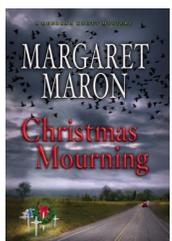

September 1: “Death in the Family” by Tessa Wegert. As a nor'easter bears down, Shana Merchant and fellow investigator Tim Wellington receive a call about a man missing on a private island. Shana and Tim travel to the isolated island owned by the wealthy Sinclair family to question the witnesses. They arrive to find blood on the scene and a house full of Sinclair family and friends on edge.

October 6: “The Punishment She Deserves” by Elizabeth George. Inspector Thomas Lynley of Scotland Yard and detective sergeant Barbara Havers are approached by a member of Parliament with a request to investigate the supposed suicide of a constituent's son.

November 3: “The Thursday Murder Club” by Richard Osman. In a peaceful retirement village, four unlikely friends meet weekly in the Jigsaw Room to discuss unsolved crimes. When a local developer is found dead, the Thursday Murder Club suddenly find themselves in the middle of their first live case

December 1: “Christmas Mourning” by Margaret Maron. Judge Deborah Knott is faced with a horrifying holiday murder case. After a beautiful young cheerleader is found dead in a car wreck, Judge Knott's husband Deputy Dwight Bryant discovers evidence that the death was anything but an accident. Now Knott and Bryant are on a desperate search for a killer before he or she strikes again.
